

Leading experts in functional glass

" We are leading experts in all types of glass that add function, comfort and savings.
Our specialty is making functionality invisible."

About us

We at CL Specialglas AB have more than 30 years of industry experience. Since our start in 1994, we have delivered special glass for more than 2,000 projects. We are experts in all types of glass solutions in the construction, interior design, shipping, and automotive industries.

We offer quality in everything we do, and we want our clients to feel confident in hiring us. That is why we are with you all the way – from conception and calculations to connection, completed installation and maintenance.

Let us help you find the best solution!

Are you facing a challenging project? Are you planning large glass facades or open surfaces but concerned about transparency? Do you want a better indoor climate without cold areas and visible radiators? Are you looking for a certified electric windshield for a vehicle? Then you have come to the right place. We at CL Specialglas are glass experts and our goal is to always be at the forefront of advanced glass solutions. With our unique expertise and customized services, we guarantee you will get a supplier who listens to your needs and meets all your expectations.

Need expert help?

We offer experienced and dedicated specialists who help you develop the best options - from ideas and calculations to completed installation and maintenance. We are involved from start to finish and take the glass solution a step above the standard.

Experienced supplier

We are an independent supplier of special glass and work exclusively with factories that manufacture to our specifications with in-house glass solutions. We mainly supply glass to countries within the Nordic region, but we will also export to other parts of Europe.

Our main product is Warm Glass. It's electrically heated insulating glass and electrically heated laminated glass, but we also supply special glass in the form of LCD glass, shielding glass, radar reflecting, data stop glass, and EMC protective glass etc.

As a supplier of electrically heated glass and specialty glasses, it is important to be able to deliver a complete solution, therefore we collaborate with other suppliers and partners to deliver a complete working customer solution.

To ensure optimal glass solutions, we offer the following services:

- Help with customer specifications including consultation with architects, construction companies, facade contractors and project consultants.
- Proposal submissions for technical solutions and glass structure proposals.
- Delivery to meet exacting specifications.
- Supply of the necessary connection instructions and facade sketches.
- Submission of proposals and delivery of control equipment to ensure optimal performance and energy consumption.
